

Is multiple sclerosis (MS) making everyday tasks harder for you?

A clinical study is seeking adults with MS

We are inviting adults with MS to join the REMASTER Study, which is looking into an investigational study drug in a new class of disease-modifying therapies (DMTs).

You may be able to join the REMASTER Study if you:

- Are 18 to 65 years of age
- Have a documented diagnosis of MS
- Have had no relapses within 2 years before starting the study
- Have some disability but are able to walk without assistance or with a walking aid such as a cane or crutch

Study-related treatment, tests, and doctor visits are provided at no cost to you. Reimbursement for study-related expenses, such as meals, parking, or transportation may be available.

We are happy to answer any questions you or your loved ones have and to see if you may be able to participate. Contact the REMASTER Study Team to learn more.
